THE STATE CONVENTION—SURVEYOR GENERAL.

The time fixed for the State convention is the 17th inst. It is all important that the Republican party be true to itself upon that occasion. What we desire to impress upon our people is the important fact that men are nothing—principles are everything. Measures not men is our doctrine, as it was of the old Jeffersonian Democracy. But the old Jeffersonian Democracy, where is it to be found to day? We answer in the organization of the Republican party. If not there, then there is no Jeffersonian Democracy. This is a proposition self evident, and consequently uncontradictory. Taking this for granted, what then is the duty of the State convention? We answer, to pay no attention to men, or to their claims upon the party; but to look to the best interests of the organization, and to the success of our principles. How shall we best succeed? How shall we insure victory?

The answer is easy. Put forth none but good men. Take care of the weak and minority counties. Ever since the breaking out of the slave-holders rebellion, Central Pennsylvania has been left in the minority—to the mercy of the sympathisers with treason. The State has been true to the Government. But who has done more to bring about this favorable result, than the loyal men of the minority counties? Who can, who dare contradict this?

We have been left out (as the politicians say) in the cold. Is this right? How long is this injustice to continue? We are not exorbitant in our demands. We do not wish to be mandatory or unreasonable. But we do demand that our great and patriotic organization do not leave us to fight our battles alone. We have brought forward our best man and ask, that he be nominated for the office of Surveyor General. That man is Wm. P. Wilson, Esq. Is it necessary for us to add one word, to what has already been said in his favor? We think not, for he is well known throughout the State, and here in Central Pennsylvania, it is an admitted fact that he is the strongest man that could be named for the position. His name is a tower of strength, and his nomination by the State convention, will ensure success this fall, and thus make Pennsylvania certain in the Presidential canvass in 1872. Will we be wise?

DEMOCRATIC INCONSISTENCY.—The Democratic papers certainly show great inconsistency in advocating the repeal of the income tax, while at the same time, they call for the taxation of national bonds. All the exemption the bonds enjoy by law (says the Chicago Post), is the provision that no State or municipal corporation shall levy taxes on them; but Congress itself levies an income tax on all incomes from bonds exceeding $1,000 per annum, and this very tax is the one the Democratic press insists shall be repealed! They would tax the bondholder by repealing the only tax he pays! This is about as near a common sense view of the public affairs as they generally reach. To demand taxation and urge its repeal in the same issue is highly characteristic of that party's method.

SOUTHERN OUTRAGES.—The Cincinnati Gazette says. We are told that the way to stop these outrages is to put the Democratic party in power. The Democratic party was in power when the rebellion was organized. It did not stop it. The Democratic party was used for the purpose of organizing the rebellion. If in power again it would be used for the purpose of overthrowing the constitutional amendments; of assuming the Southern debt. The Southern ex-rebels do not hesitate to declare this to be their purpose, and the Northern Democrats do not dare to oppose this proposition.

DRIVING OFF LABOR.—The planters of South Carolina are trying still further to impoverish themselves by driving away all their help. Eleven hundred negroes have fled in terror from a single county. The masked murderers who drove them out are trembling with solicitude lest the Constitution of the United States shall be violated by officers trying to enforce the Ku Klux bill.

RECONSTRUCTION IN THE SOUTH.

Col. James Gilliland, of Washington city has returned from West Virginia where he was superintending the survey of a large body of lands situated on Elk River, known as the Edwards lands, being surveys of three several tracts, containing about one hundred thousand acres. He represents that all the interferences and conflicting claims are ascertained and run off, leaving a clear and indisputable title to about 80,000 acres. This large tract has been purchased by a party of Pennsylvanians from Edwards, Caperton and Price, after having had it examined by exprienced lumbermen and coal operators, Col. Gilliland informs us that this tract is situated, according to the report in Prof. Daddow's work, in the centre of the bituminus coal field of Pennsylvania and Virginia. Veins of the best bituminus coal, are now opened on this tract. A superior quality of cannel coal is found on it, extending along the River and can be mined and shipped at a very small cost compared with the Penn'a coals.

Poplar, Black Walnut, Oak, Hemlock and other varieties of valuable timber cover this land in great abundance. Col. Gilliland has been exploring this land for the last three months, and is familiar with every portion of it. We call the attention of lumbermen to this enterprise, as we are informed it is the intention of the present owners to develop it by taking off timber and inducing settlers to occupy and improve it. The company engaged in improving Elk River expect to have the boom, lock and dam completed next spring, so that logs will be floated down Elk River to Charleston and held with perfect safety. We are informed that the same experiment is being tried in Kanawha Valley, that is so successful in our own State, viz: The system of floating logs and no doubt it will be as successful.

This we believe to be the true plan of reconstruction, and we are sorry that our Southern brethren do not hold out more inducements for emigration. West Virginia has ever been true to the Union and her people are loyal. There is no barrier to imigration in that State. Northern capital and enterprise are building up West Virginia. We hold that the system which is destined to place that State in advance of all the other Southern States is immigration from the North. A friendly feeling and imigration will do more to reconstruct the South than Acts of Congress, or Presidential Proclamations. We hope our Southern "brethren" will open their eyes to this fact, and by their prudence render the enforcement of Ku-Klux bills unnecessary. Free labor, free capital and a free people will solve the problem of reconstruction. Would it not be well enough for Congress to think of this?

DOES PROTECTION PROTECT?

ASTOUNDING CONFESSION OF OUR TRADE RIVALS—A PILL FOR THE FREE-TRADE LEAGUE—WHERE IS D. A. WELLS—READ HOW THE TARIFF IS RUINING OUR INDUSTRIES.

Ryland's Iron Trade Circular, for March 4, 1871, published at Birmingham, England, makes the following confession, which is deserving of the attraction of the American people:

"The edge-tool trade is well sustained, and we have less of the effects of American competition. That this competition is severe, however, is a fact that cannot be ignored, and it applies to many other branches than that of edge-tools. Every Canadian season affords unmistakable evidence that some additional article in English hardware is being supplanted by the produce of Northern States, and it is notorious how largely American wares are rivalling those of the northern country in other of our colonial possessions, as well as upon the continent. The ascendence of the Protectionist party in the States continues to operate most favorably for the manufacturing interest there, and it is no wonder that, under such benignant auspices, the enterprise in this direction is swelling to colosal proportions. The whole subject is one demanding the serious attention of our manufacturers."

What will they do about it? Revenue Reform will have to be hurried up to save the Birmingham manufacturers from ruin. The trade journals in England and the English trade agents in the United States ought not to contradict each other so flagrantly. Colonel Grosvenor, of the St. Louis Democrat, who is not a modest man, or he would have dropped his military title after abruptly leaving the service, has written a book entitled, "Does Protection Protect?" about which a mighty cackle is kept up by the Free-Traders. We fancy that Ryland's Trade Circular has answered this question fully and effectively in the article above quoted.—Industrial Bulletin.

AS IT IS.

There seems to be but little conception at the North of the real condition of things in the South at the present time. It is difficult for people who live in sections where law reigns supreme, to believe that in this country any section can be found where life and property are considered rightfully forfeited to the ruling class, as a punishment for those who dare advocate the principles for which our armies fought four long and bloody years; Yet such is the case. Daily, men are arriving in Washington who have been driven from their homes, bearing upon their bodies, scars of the lash, or in their pockets, notices from the democratic order of Ku Klux to leave their homes, and this because they dare to be Republicans against the will of the old rebel leaders. Several are now in Washington who have been compelled to resign their offices in South Carolina by the Democratic order of Ku Klux. It may be asked why those outrages so seldom reach the ears of the public. The only answer necessary, is that the "associated press" in the South is entirely in the hands of men who served in the rebel army, the majority of them being members of the Ku Klux, or are controlled by fear of those who are, if they give offence thereto by sending correct information of the outrages as they occur. The press and people of this country depend on the telegraph for information, and the slower communication by mail, but rarely succeeds in undoing the mischief done by the telegraph. The late message of the President to Congress on this subject, and his proclamation in relation to South Carolina, shows conclusively that there is real danger to the country from this source. It is worthy of notice in this connection, that while fault finders are abusing the President, he makes no answer to the many unfounded charges, but is found steadily serving the country and watching with care over the interest of the four millions made free and enfranchised by the party which he did so much for with his sword in the dark days of the rebellion, and which confided the care of its works when peace was attained.

IS THERE DANGER?

There is a disposition on the part of the Northern people to be slow in believing, that after the late civil war, during which they developed so much of real grandeur and strength, that any real danger can threaten the perpetuity of this government, whereas the only great danger is in this very slowness to recognize danger. It cannot be forgotten that eleven years ago but few could be found to believe that any attempt of magnitude was being made to disrupt the country, and not until after the first battle of Bull Run, did the North become aroused to the impending danger. As in those days, a few now call on the people to look earnestly into the condition of things in the South, before the storm of rebellion shall again burst upon the country with redoubled fury. What is the meaning of a secret oath bound society in the South embracing as is estimated by those who should be best informed, upwards of three hundred thousand men, who became veterans in the late war against the Nation's life? The developments made by the Senate Committee on Southern outrages, show that this Ku Klux organization is bound together by horrible oaths that their deeds are done secretly, by disguised parties, that when arrested which is seldom, it is impossible to convict the offender, because of the presence of Ku Klux members in the jury-box and on the bench; that they exclude from their organization all persons suspected of fidelity to the government; that they are avowedly opposed to the late amendments to the Constitution, the Reconstruction laws, and every other law passed for the protection of loyal men in the South.

"BRICK POMEROY AND GENERAL BUTLER.—Some time ago Mrs. Pomeroy, wife of the somewhat notorious "Brick" Pomeroy, engaged the services of General Butler as counsel for the purpose of procuring a divorce from her husband. As soon as "Brick" heard that his wife had engaged Butler he instructed his lawyer to endeavor to make a compromise. Pomeroy's lawyer wrote to Butler to ascertain whether a compromise could be effected. After consulting his client Butler replied that it could, provided Mr. Pomeroy would pay his wife twenty thousand dollars, with alimony. Pomeroy at once accepted the terms, and the case is settled, Mrs. Pomeroy resumed her maiden name.

THE 17TH OF MAY CONVENTION.

On Wednesday, May the 17th, at Harrisburg, will assemble the Republican State Convention to place in nomination candidates for the office of Auditor and Surveyor Generals. For the latter position we hear no candidate mentioned more favorably than Hon. Wm. P. Wilson, of Centre county. Should that gentleman consent to the use of his name before the convention, we doubt not it will receive strong support. The late Convention of Republican Conferees at Huntingdon unanimously instructed in favor of Mr. Wilson.

For the position of Auditor General we have Gen. Harrison Allen, of Warren, Dr. Stanton, of Beaver, Col. Hooten, of Chester, and Hon. M. S. Humphreys, of Allegheny.

The several candidates named are well known Republicans and either of them would doubtless make efficient officers. It is undeniably true that the party must ignore favorites unless they chance to be the strongest candidates before the people. The hale fellow well met style of candidates will not avail the party this fall. The happy, not to say eloquent manner in which candidates capture the fancy of politicians and control delegates and conventions, should have little force wiith the gentlemen who assemble in Harrisburg on the 17th. Genuine worth, strength and the positive assurance of popularity with the people should so far effect the action of the convention as to preclude the nomination of any other candidate than one whose election is certain to follow his nomination. We have such a man in our party. His nomination is asked by a large majority of the Republican party in Blair county. We refer to Gen. Harrison Allen, of Warren county. At a recent meeting of the Blair county Committeemen, eleven members voted to instruct the State delegate to vote for the nomination of Gen. Allen as Auditor General. Sixteen voted against instructing the State delegate, although a large proportion favored Gen. Allen. We have been assured by several of the gentlemen who voted against instructing that they regretted having done so being fully persuaded that Gen. Harrison Allen was the strongest candidate in the field. We doubt not but that our worthy State Delegate will conscientiously do his duty in accordance with the wishes of his constituents. Gen. Allen is a progressive, upright, conscientious and sterling Republican legislator. In private life, not less than in the field, House or Senate, wherever placed to counsel or lead, he has always vindicated his ability and manhood. He is popular, and popular with the people. Of one thing we are assured Gen. Allen is not a "ring" candidate, and his claims are as well known to the whole people as to himself. At home he commands universal confidence, and he lives where Republicans abound. We sincerely trust that Gen. Allen's nomination will be effected, believing that the party by such action will place it out of the power of the Democracy to defeat us.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER &C.

Men and parties generally proclaim and act out what they feel and seldom take part against that with which they sympathize. It is plain, therefore, why the Ku Klux rascals are never rebuked by Democratic leaders, and why they feel that they have their moral support. There is not the shadow of a doubt, that if the Democratic leaders only felt so disposed, they could change the face of things in the south in one month. But they never make the attempt, simply because they either approve of Ku Kluxism or are afraid of dividing the party—for the Ku Klux are an important wing of the Democratic party. It was the rebellion that united the loyal masses to save the Government, and they will be no less united in the coming Presidential election for similar reasons, which the Ku Klux Democracy so vividly illustrate. The blood of the murdered citizens will not be spilt in vain.

A REMARKABLE contrast is afforded in the Illinois and Pennsylvania Legislatures. The entire number of bills passed by the former body during its recent session was only fifty-eight, while, notwithstanding several hundred bills have already been passed by our Harrisburg Solons, there yet remain over seventeen hundred on the calendars of each house. In Illinois legislation is confined to public business; here it is made too much a private matter.

For the REPUBLICAN.

HEROINES OF HISTORY—STRONG MINDED WOMEN.

BY SHABY.

I said in my last I would refer to the question of woman's rights again, I will commence by giving a brief outline of the character and deeds of some of the strong minded heroines of history. I cannot go into full particulars in relation to each one, as did Annie Dickenson in her star lecture of the course a few weeks since, as all must admit that Annie is far superior as a lecturer to any of the five who have favored us during the winter with their great talents and accumulated wisdom. Olive Logan's was good, much better than any lecture delivered by the gentlemen, and was of course the second best. Both of these ladies spoke their lecture, without the use of spectacles or manuscript. There was no mincing of words nor twitching about upon the rostrum like Josh Billings, etc.—no faltering of voice; but one continual flow of eloquence from the beginning to the ending, and when Annie Dickinson spoke of Joan of Arc commanding her armies, I was almost impelled to the belief that it was the heroic Joan herself.

Who will deny that Annie Dickinson is a bright and intellectual woman? And then she is so small and effeminate that the men cannot claim her as belonging to their side of the house as they do Olive Logan. Olive is tall and not so feminine in her appearance as Miss Dickinson, and consequently it is a very common thing to hear men say, "Oh she is one of us. She is only a man in womans clothes." This only proves how jealous they are. We all know they like to claim all the superior talent as well as oratorical powers, and withhold any praise from woman, except as house-keeper or perhaps as a parlor ornament. A few more lectures like those delivered by Miss Dickinson or Miss Logan, will, I have no doubt, work a revolution in the minds of many in regard to the superiority of women, and their capacity to fill a higher sphere of usefulness than that usually alloted them by the world of mankind. It is an old saying that "what has been done by man, by man can be done again" and is it not just as true that what has been done by women, can be done by women again? I will cite a few examples from history.

When Barre de St. Auner, Henry the Fourth's Governor of Leucate, was on a journey to the Duc de Montmorenci, he was seized by the Spanish soldiers who were on their way to besiege that town, and who rejoiced that having the Governor in their possession, the gates of the place would readily be opened to them; but Constantia de Cecelli, the governor's wife, at once assembled the garrison and put herself so resolutely at their head, pike in hand, that she inspired the weakest with courage, and the besiegers were repulsed wherever they presented themselves. Shame, and their great loss, having rendered the besiegers desperate, they sent a message to this heroic woman, telling her if she did not yield the city they would hang the Governor, her husband. She replied with tears in her eyes "I have riches in abundance, I have offered them and do still offer them all for his ransom, but I would not ignominously purchase a life which he would reproach me with and which he would be ashamed to enjoy. I will not dishonor him by treason against my King and country." The soldiers then made another unsuccessful attack, and then savagely put her husband to death, and raised the siege. Henry the IV afterwards sent this lady the brevet of Governor of Leucate with the reversion for her son.

What do you think of this example of a real strong minded woman? History is full of such examples, which indicate the courage and intellect of woman, and her right to claim equality with the sterner sex whenever Heaven has imparted to her the gift of genius. Let me for the purpose of strengthening my case cite another example. Look at Jane of Belleville, widow of Mons. de Chisson, who was beheaded at Paris on the suspicion of carrying on a correspondence with England and the Count de Montfort. Filled with despair at the death of her husband, and exasperated at the shame heaped upon his name, she sent her son secretly to London, and when she was assured that he was safe, she sold her jewels, fitted out three ships and put to sea to revenge the death of her husband. She made several successful descents upon Normandy, and the inhabitants of that province were forced to be idle spectators whilst their villages were in a blaze at the hand of one of the handsomest women in Europe, who, with a sword in one hand and a torch in the other, urged on the carnage and directed all the horrors of the war.

There can be no doubt of woman's intellect and woman's power in that affair; but I shall be told that such examples are almost solitary cases. But this is not the fact. It will puzzle any man to find in the pages of history as many instances of real and startling heroism in his sex as I could hunt up in mine. There have been whole eras in which the heroism of woman shone out with a general lustre which made it the rule and not the exception of her character. Such was particularly the case in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, especially in Hungary and in the islades of the Archipelago and the Mediterranean, when they were invaded by the Turks. Once, indeed, for the space of four hundred years, the heroism of woman was a potential power in Europe, showing itself in the midst of convulsions and great revolutions.

While we are all proud of our own country our own beloved and free America, did it ever occur to you that its discovery is due to the far-seeing sagacity and patronage of a woman, Queen Isabella of Aragon? When the king and his count had refused with scorn the petition of Columbus, the great discoverer had recourse to the Queen, who furnished him with the means and aid, which resulted in his triumphant success. But for the sagacity of this wise Queen it is reasonable to suppose we would have no America, or no American Republic to this day.

If we were permitted to descend from this high plane of public history, into the private homes of the world, in which sex, think you, should we there find the purest spirit of heroism? Who suffers sorrow and pain with the most heroism of heart? Who in the midst of poverty, neglect and crushing despair, holds on most bravely through the terrible struggle, and never yields even to the fearful demands of necessity, until death arrests the last weapon of defence from her hands? Ah! if all this unwritten heroism of woman could be brought to the light, even man himself would cast his proud wreath of fame at her feet. But more anon.

THE FRENCH STRUGGLE.

The work of desolation still goes on in France, with no prospect of a speedy settlement, so far as can be seen. The insurgents still hold their ground, and are reported to have a revenue equal to the support of their army. Fighting between the two armies along the lines, is the order of each day. The Free Masons have been earnestly trying to bring about the adoption of conciliatory measures, but have failed, and have planted their banners upon the ramparts, resolved to stand by them to the last.

Negotiations for the surrender of Fort Issy have been instituted, but nothing has been accomplished, and according to a dispatch, on the 1st inst., the bombardment had re-commenced, and was very violent.

M. Thiers, in a speech in the Assembly on the 27th says: "The situation is painful. French blood is still flowing but it is consoling to know that the denouement is near. All are doing their duty, especially the army, to which he alluded in terms of high eulogy. It is said Thiers commended Chevalier as without fear and without reproach, who, completely unfettered in his actions, has now completed the investment of the works of Paris, and commenced active operations. Fort Issy has been silenced and Les Monlin Ceaux captured.

We, continued the speaker are not assailants, we are defenders of law and order. We wish conciliation, but we also wish to save liberty from despotism and from unbridled lions. After eloquently defending Republicanism in the Assembly, M. Thiers concluded as follows: "The insurgents are isolated and all France is with the Government and Assembly in our efforts to combine unity with liberty."

THE GREAT CREVASSE.—The whole of Louisiana between New Orleans and Pontchartrain is being deluged by a flood arising from a tremendous crevasse which issued out of the Mississippi near Bonnett Carre. The destruction of property, and it is feared of life, will be deplorable. The flood appears to be irresistible. It is anticipated that the whole city of New Orleans may be put under water, which must certainly ensue unless the progress of the flood can be stayed. The point—Bonnett Carre—where the break took place, is but forty-five miles above New Orleans.

WORD FROM THE BATTLE-FIELD.

She rose up in the early dawn,
And white and silently she moved
About the house. Four men had gone
To battle for the land they loved,
And she, the mother and the wife,
Waited for tidings from the strife;
How still the house seemed! and her tread
Sounded like footsteps of the dead.

The long day passed; the dark night came;
She had not seen a human face;
Some voice spoke suddenly her name—
How loud it sounded in that place,
Where day on day no sound was heard
But her own footsteps! "Bring you word?"
She cried, to whom she could not see—
"Word from the battle-plains to me?"

A soldier entered at the door,
And stood within the dim fire-light.
"I bring you tidings of the four,"
He said, "who left you for the fight."
"God bless you, friend," she cried, "speak on!
For I can bear it: one is gone?"
"Ay, one is gone," he said. "Which one?"
"Dear lady, he your eldest son."

A deathly pallor shot across
Her withered face. She did not weep.
She said, "It is a grievous loss,
But God gives His beloved sleep.
What of the living—of the three—
And when can they come back to me?"
The soldier turned away his head:
"Lady, your husband, too, is dead."

She put her hand upon her brow;
A wild, sharp pain was in her eyes:
"My husband! oh, God help me now!"
The soldier shivered at her sighs;
The task was harder than he thought.
"Your youngest son, dear madam, fought
Close at his father's side; both fell
Dead by the bursting of a shell."

She moved her lips, and seemed to moan;
Her faced had paled to ashen gray.
"Then one is left me—one alone,"
She said, "of four who marched away.
Oh! overruling, all-wise God,
How can I pass beneath Thy rod!"
The soldier walked across the floor,
Paused at the window, at the door—

Wiped the cold dew-drops from his cheek,
And sought the mourner's side again.
"Once more, dear lady, I must speak:
This last remaining son was slain
Just at the closing of the fight;
'Twas he who sent me here to-night."
"God knows," the man said afterward,
"The fight itself was not so hard."

The First Umbrella.

It is generally stated that Jonas Hanway, the well-known philanthropist, was the first man who carried an umbrella in the street of London. Hanway died in 1786. Early in the century a large umbrella was kept in the halls of aristocratic mansions, for the special protection of the lady of the house in passing from her door to her coach; and as it was not uncommon to keep such articles in the coffee-houses or taverns for the benefit of customers, as early as Queen Anne's reign. The fact, however, is not the less true, that it is only within the lifetime of persons now living that this almost indispensible protection from the mists and rain has become generally adopted. In the Female Tattler of December 12,1709, appears a satiricle notice, informing the "young gentleman belonging to the custom house who, for fear of rain, borrowed the umbrella at Will's coffee-house, Cornhill, of the mistress," that "to be dry from head to foot on the like occasion, he shall be welcome to the maid's patterns." Gay mentions the umbrella as early as 1712, in his poem of "Trivia," in which he describes the "tucked up seamstress," walking in a shower, while streams "run down her oiled umbrella sides." Mr J. Jamieson, a Scottish surgeon, brought with him from Paris in 1781 or 1782, an umbrella, which was the first seen in Glasgow, where he resided, and where it attracted universal attention.

The earliest specimens of the English umbrella were made, as mentioned in Gay's lines, of oiled silk, which, when wet, was exceedingly difficult to open or close. The stick and furniture were heavy and inconvenient, and the article very expensive. Its transition to the present portable form, is due partly to the substitution of silk and gingham to the heavy and troublesome oiled silk, which admits of the ribs and stretcher being made much lighter, and also to the many ingenius mechanical improvements in the frame work which have been made from time to time, several of which have been patented. No change has proved a greater convenience than that from the old-fashioned ring and string for securing the umbrella when closed, to the simple clip and India-rubber braid now in use; and yet, before this was accomplished, many transitions had to be passed through.

Though the umbrella is itself of older date, there is nothing to invalidate the story that it is to the good Jona Hanway that we are indebted for the valuable example of moral courage in first carrying an umbrella in the streets of London. It is difficult now to conceive the amount of persecution which this strange proceeding entailed upon the unfortunate philanthropist, whose object was, doubtless, less the protection of his own person than that of showing his fellow country-men how they might avoid those continual drenchings to which they had so long submitted. The hackney coachman and the sedan chairman were the first to call out against the innovation, declaring that they were ruined if it came into fashion. When they began to be carried, even a gentleman accompanied by a lady under the shelter of the new-fangled rain-protector, were hooted as they passed along, while a gentleman alone carrying one was certain to be attacked with cries of "Frenchman! Frenchman! why don't you call a coach?" and other more offensive salutations.

Shoddy Aristocracy.

Those who watched the surface of our "society" during the progress of the late civil war, were wont to make themselves mad or merry over the sudden rush into social eminence of new millionarires. The old aristocracy of wealth tried to distinguish itself from these parvenus of Plutus, these mushrooms of Mammon, by fixing on them the nickname of the aristocracy of shoddy, refusing to be softened by the glist of its satin or the dazzle of its diamonds. Fashion, as the supercilious custodian of manners and civilization, lifted its eye-glass to survey these bold intruders from unknown depths in the social scale, and pronounced them barbaric, though in broadcloth, and savage, though in silks. It is well, perhaps, to receive with caution this verdict of dandyism; for of all adepts in impertinence the most accomplished are nominal professors of politeness. We all originally came from the woods; it is hard to eradicate from any of us the old taste for the tattoo and the war paint; and the moment money gets into our pockets, it somehow or other breaks out in ornaments on our persons, without alwaye giving refinement to our manners. Hence the prodigies of vulgar ostentation which accompanied and followed the horrors of our battle-fields, and the fierce scramble for wealth which threw into stronger contrast the sacrifices of our patriotism. The larger portion of this new wealth, however, has been the production of individual genius and enterprise; and has not only more than offset the waste of war, but it supplied war with one of her two main sinews of "iron and gold." The true shoddy wealth is that which has been acquired by dishonest practices and reckless speculations, and which, though it has transferred money from one individual to another, and generally from the honest man to the trickster, has not added a dollar to the wealth of the nation. The actors in some of these so-called "enterprises" bring to mind the anecdote of a man who professed his intention to go West and open a jeweller's shop. "What is your capital?" he was asked. "A crow-bar," was the reply; "can't I open a jeweller's shop with that?" The last ten years have been fertile in examples of this burglary calling itself business.

Paper Wheels.

A car company is running a car on the Chicago and Northwestern road with what are called "paper wheels." The wheels have steel tires and cast-iron hubs, and the paper is introduced in the way of filling under the tires, for the purpose of deadening sound and diminishing the force of concussion. According to the National Car Builder the wheels have been running since July last under this particular car, and had been in use some four months previously. The paper device is said to be superior to wood for the purpose designated, being stronger and lighter, and free from knots, grain or sap. It does not expand or contract, but remains in the condition in which it is put in the wheels without liability of change. It is cheaper than wood, and can be molded into any form by pressure, and is made fire and waterproof by asbestos. It is, as a substitute for wood, adapted to a variety of uses, especially in the way of ornamentation.

ACTION IS MAN'S SALVATION.—Men who have half a dozen irons in the fire are not the one's to go crazy. It is the man of voluntary or compelled liesure who mopes and pines, and thinks himself into the mad house or the grave. Motion is all nature's law. Action is man's salvation, physical and mental; and yet nine of ten are wistfully looking forward to the coveted hour when they shall have liesure to do nothing—the very siren that has lured to death many a "successful" man. He only is truly wise who lays himself out to work till life's latest hour, and that is the man who will live the longest and will live to most purpose.

The South.

For weeks past there has been much talk and speculation in Washington as to what would become necessary on the part of the Government, (white as well as colored) from the henious outrages being committed daily in most if not all, of the Southern States. Many here hoped that the Senate Committee's investigation into the subject would have a tendency to abate the fearful condition of things, but such a result is so far from being realized, that the outrages have been more frequent and more flagrant in their character than before. This is not at all surprising to those who are acquainted with the temper and determination of the Ku Klux Democracy. Their object in continuing such infamous proceedings under circumstances, which to law abiding citizens seem so untoward, is, to so thoroughly intimidate men in the South that they will not dare to offer testimony before any Committee that Congress may appoint to investigate the subject. A fact or two will serve to illustrate this point fully. A prominent gentleman from Atlanta, a native of Georgia, lately stated in Washington, that he knew a man in that State, formerly a Major in the rebel army, who was thoroughly posted in regard to the Ku Klux in the north western part of that State, and who, while bitterly opposed to their lawlessness, said "I dare not tell what I know." It was suggested that he might be summoned to testify, he replied "they cannot make me testify, the worst Congress can do is to imprison me for contempt in refusing to testify, and I know death would be my portion at the hands of the Ku Klux if I did," he continued, by asking. "Can you blame a man for choosing as I do." This is not an insolated case, but one of many well known in Washington, and will serve as a sample of the many.

The people of the North seem to have shut their eyes to this state of affairs. They do not seem to know that hundreds of white, as well as colored, men, women and children are being murdered, whipped, driven from their homes, or mutilated in the most barbarous manner, because they prefer the principles for which so much blood was shed, and treasure spent, school houses are burned, and the teachers driven off, because the educated colored people cannot be controlled by the old rebel leaders. The many here from the South, complain bitterly of the Northern people for stopping now to quarrel with each other about local causes, or personal ends, while such quarrels serve only to reanimate the old rebel Democracy with hopes of success in 1872, which they now seek through the blood and sufferings of the loyal Southern element. If they should be successful, the last vestage of loyalty in the South would be compelled to succumb to treason. Every Democratic gain in the Northern States, strikes terror to the Union man, and fires the heart of the Ku Klux fiends to further villainies.

Dialogue On Newspapers.

"How does it happen, neighbor B., that your children have made so much greater progress in learning and knowledge of the world, than mine? They all attend the same school, and for what I know, enjoy equal advantages."

"Do you take the newspapers, neighbor A?"

"No, sir, I do not take them myself; I sometimes borrow one, just to read.—Pray, sir what has newspapers to do with the education of children?"

"Why, sir, they have a vast deal to do with it, I assure you. I should as soon think of keeping them from school, as to withhold them from the newspaper; it is a little school in itself Being new every day it attracts their attention, and they are sure to peruse it. Thus, while they are storing their minds with useful knowledge, they are at the same time acquiring the art of reading. I have often been surprised that men of understanding should overlook the importance of a newspaper in a family."

"In truth, neighbor B., I frequently think that I should like them, but I cannot afford the expenses."

"Can't afford the expenses? What, let me ask, is the value of three dollars a year, in comparison with the pleasures and advantages to be derived from a well conducted newspaper? As poor as I am I would not for fifty dollars a year deprive myself of the happiness I now enjoy of reading and hearing my children read and talk about what they have read in the newspaper.

And then the reflection that they are growing up useful and intelligent members of society. Oh, don't mention the expenses—pay in advance every year, and you will think no more of it."

As sometimes small evils, like invisible insects inflic's pains, and a single hair may stop a vast machine, the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one, but in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasure, since very few great ones, alas! are of long duration.

THE man who curves the channel of a laborious life, taps the springs of tributary joys through every mile. Labor brings men into sympathy with the worthy men of the world. Temptation flies from the earnest laborer, and preys upon the heart and brain of the idler.

Individual Virtue.

Laws are the development of public virtue and morality. Shown thus in mass, we do not always consider that these developments. this public virtue and morality, depend altogether on private and individual correctness of principle, and consequent uprightness of life. We read of great wrongs committed, and blame the law state of morals that render such things possible. We shudder with horror at a murder, and yet, as jurymen, acquit the murderer. We lament the looseness of the marriage relation that enables one of a married pair to secure a legal separation from his or her companion on frivolous pretexts, judged by the laws of God, but adequate under the laws of men, and utter our platitudes on the decay of public virtue. We regret the prevalence of intemperance, but seldom ask ourselves for how much of it we are individually responsible.

The truth is that morality and general good order is dependent wholly and only on individual virtue. Legislative enactments are passed by our representatives; as we are pure, so shall they be right; as we are virtuous, so shall they be correct. Political corruption does not have its origin in the Congress, the Legislature, or even in the lobby. Mercantile frauds and swindles do not originate in banks, insurance officers, or mercantile houses. They all come, not from the decay of public morality; but from the lack of private virtue. The remedy is to beginning—in the family, the school, and the church. What we should aim for is not so much legislative enactments as personal virtue, correctness in private conduct rather than integrity in the mature. Both we need, but the latter follows the former. Educate our children to virtue and the fathers will not disgrace the principles of right implanted in their consciences, or the love of the good cherished in their hearts. There is a great need of this individual virtue, this personal purity. The community needs it, the commerce between man and man, the intercourse between nations, the public business of the country, the very stability and endurance of our free institutions and the ultimate good of the race all require it. Thus will our public officers be purified, our legislators ennobled, our laws honored, and mercantile integrity be something more than a name.

There is a man out in Cincinnati named G. D. M. Bloss, and he writes a horrible hand. One of his friends showed his signature to a group of persons, and asked if any of them could tell what it meant. One man said it was "don't give up the ship," another urged that it might mean "Borrow a toothbrush;" another assumed that it was "Rock me to sleep;" and another wanted to bet vast sums that it meant "Down with the nigger;" while a fifth was certain it was "Brown's old hoss." At last it was submitted to Mr. Bloss himself, and, after studying it for a long while and thinking about it, he decided that it must be "Mud as a fertilizer." All the printers in Cincinnati are joining a Union for protection against Bloss.

At a late meeting of the Presbytery, in one of the adjoining States, brother W. said, that early in his ministry, he and another brother were conducting a meeting in which there was much religious interest. An old man gave expression to his joy by shouting, and continued it until it began to interrupt the services. Brother H. said to brother W., "Go, stop that old man's noise." He went to him and spoke a few words, and the shouting man at once became quiet. Brother H. asked brother W., "What did you say to the old man that quieted him so promptly?" Brother W. replied, "I asked him for a dollar for foreign missions."

A DISCOVERY.—A French æronaut, named Glatsher has made a discovery which endear his memory to the female suffragists. He has found that in one thing, at least, woman is more than the the equal of the tyrant man. The voice of woman, he says, is audible in a balloon at the height of about two miles, while that of a man has never reached higher than a mile. There is no reverberation in the sounds which are carried in these altitudes, but once heard then are gone forever.

A THOUGHT FOR PARENTS.—Never for one day forget that the first book children read, nay, that which they continue to read, and by far the most influential, is that of their parent's example and daily deportment. If this should be disregarded by you, or even forgotten, then be not at all surprised if you should discover, to your sorrow and vexation, and the interruption of your business and peace, that your children only "know the right path, but still follow the wrong."

A laughable thing took place at a revival meeting somewhere in Mississippi not long since. The minister noticed a seedy looking chap in one of the seats looking as though he needed religion or a good square meal. So he stepped up to him and asked him if he were a Christian. "No, sir," said he; "I am editor of the Democratic paper in this place." "Then in the name of God, let us pray," replied the devoted minister

The Dangers Of Snuff-taking.

In one of our hospital reports will be found, the Lancet states, a startling instance of the poisonous effects of lead being produced by the use of contaminated snuff. The victim, who was a resident in India, was in the habit of taking "best brown rappe" exported by a well-known and popular English firm in leaden cases. His medical advisers first attributed the failing power of his upper extremities, and other unpleasant symptoms, to the use of his favorite tobacco, but, after he had been to the trouble and expense of coming to England in search of further advice, his suffering was traced to the real source. To be quite certain, six separate packages were ordered from Calcutta, and a sample from each was found to contain an intimate union with a considerable quantity of lead. Rappe appears to be a rather moist preparation of the refreshing weed, and where it adhered to the sides of the leaden cases it was in these instances found to be dotted with spots of carbonate of lead, formed, it is supposed, by a combination with the walls of the case, of carbonic acid, liberated by the fermentation of the damp snuff; it presented, in fact, a minature example of the process by which white lead is manufactured for commercial purposes. A medical man who has recently returned from Calcutta states that he had lately met with three patients suffering in the same way from the same cause. They are probably not the only snuff-takers who are being poisoned with lead. Both manufacturers and consumers would do will to see to it at once that damp provisions are no longer stored in leaden cases.

And wore out all their clothing.

A New Era In Medicine.

☞Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞Let all who can believe facts, and can have faith in evidence, read the following.

Know all men by these presents, That, on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-six, personally came Joseph Haydrick to me known as such, and being duly sworn deposed as follows: "That he is the sole general agent for the United States and dependencies thereof for preparations or medicines known as Dr. Maggiel's Pills and Salve, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITRE, Notary Public,
[L.S.] 14 Wall St. New York.

June 1st, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, Doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss. JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue, D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
NEW YORK, April 7, 1866. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me, by him, about eight weeks after the accident:

NEW YORK, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder. I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal: I tried Maggiel's Salve and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true and anybody can see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2d Avenue.

J. HARDY, 119 Greeck St.

EXTRACTS FROM VARIOUS LETTERS.

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvellous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears, and the noise has left."

"Send me two boxes, I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar, your price is 25 cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Pills by return mail."

I Have over 200 such Testimonials as these, but want of space compels me to conclude.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS,

And all erruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN

R. B. BARGER,.....PROPRIETOR

W. W. BROWN,.....EDITOR

Terms: $2.00 Per Annum in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, May 10, 1871.

☞A complete file of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN may always be found at the offices of GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Advertising Agents, 40 and 41 Park Row, New York, who are authorized to represent us in that city.

Gov. ANDREW's memory is to be honored at the nation's capital that he did so much to save and preserve from Treason's touch. The trustees of the Howard University propose to endow a professorship of that institution, established on a high order for the culture of the colored race, in the Governor's name. The finances demanded for this endowment will be most cordially contributed by his many and ardent admirers, who venerate his patriotism and his nobility. To his spirit, could it be present in the Republic he worshipped, no tribute of respect could be so grateful as such an emblem of his labor and love for the sons and daughters of bondage. Let loyal citizens of means everywhere respond to the call.

AN ILLWIND, &C.

The steady growth of Connecticut and New Jersey in Republican principles appears to find partial explanation in the constant exodus from New York city of its intelligent, educated, well-to-do business classes, who have removed their families to those States from dissatisfaction with the manner in which the local affairs of the Empire city are administered. A New York journal says that in one village in the latter State there are a thousand families residing, the men of which are in business in that city. It is claimed that New York is no longer a representative American city, but practically an Irish Republic. Last year the business rents declined from ten to fifteen per cent., and we quoted a week or two ago the admission of a Democratic journal that a similar reduction had taken place this year. Real estate values have also depreciated, and it is said that the growth of Brooklyn and New York have both been arrested while the neighboring towns and villages of New Jersey have developed with remarkable rapidity. Thus again we have an illustration of the old adage that "it is an ill wind which blows nobody good."—Pittsburg Commercial.

AMREICAN PROTECTION.

No question, of the kind, is of more importance to our people than the protection of American Industry. We mean by this, of course, that labor should be in harmony with capital, and that both should work together for the common good. To this end there must be a fair protection afforded to the American laborer, against the unfair competition of foreign labor. In saying this, we do not imply that American labor cannot successfully compete with any other labor, in an open field and fair play. On the contrary, we are firmly convinced that American laborers, of every grade, are fully competent to contend in the labor market of the world with any just and equal competitors. What American labor wants is protection against the cheap, impoverished, ignorant labor of the other three-quarters of the earth, controlled by abundant capital, and directed by skilled hands. This foreign capital can buy up the labor of the Old World, at starvation rates. It can compel the foreign laborer to grow up in ignorance, to subsist on a mere pittance, to abnegate his political power, and, therefore, to produce more, at a less price, than any other class of laborers. At the same time, the skilled workman, receiving wages increased for the purpose, invested with a limited franchise, leads his fellow-workmen, of all inferior grades, to be harnessed to the machinery of the combined money power of the foreign aristocracy—the deadliest foe America has to encounter.

Just here is the danger against which the honest industry of America should be forever on its guard. It is on there accounts American labor demands and should receive the protection of a judicious Tariff We should protect our labor until, by keeping out the goods of foreign pauper competition, every man, and woman, and child in America is clothed in American clothing, warmed by American fuel, travels on American iron, writes on American paper, with American ink; aye, from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, is at once the author and patron of American industry.

The readers of the New National Era may rest assured that they will always find in these columns the strongest arguments that we are capable of producing in favor of the industry of our people. Labor, after all, rules mankind. Protect labor as you should, from slavery on the one hand, and indolence on the other; educate it; enfranchise it; elevate it to the highest planes of moral and political power; and you strike a death-blow at the heart of every form of human oppression and want and woe throughout the civilized world.—New National Era.

THE number of ex-rebels in Congress far exceeds the number of "carpet-bag representatives of the South." Of the twenty-two Southern Senators, only nine are of Northern birth, and one of these is a Democrat. Of the fifty-nine Southern Representatives, forty-one are natives of that section, and only nine Northerners; and of this number of Southern Representatives twenty-eight are ex-officials of the Confederacy. This statement effectually explodes the cry of "carpet-baggers," and shows that the South has more natives in Congress in proportion than many of the Western States.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to undounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a Toilet Appendage of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, safety and efficacy—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. The Great Medical Discovery!

Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands

Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

Impossible.

We do not suppose that the editor who can please everybody is yet born; and we doubt very much whether he ever will be. The experiment of suiting all men and all tastes has proved a complete failure. It will be an easier task to invente a flying machine than adapt one's self to the whims of universal human nature. Perpetual motion may, in the lapse of ages, be accomplished and revolutionize mechanism and all the principle of motive power known to our race. We would as soon attempt to dip the ocean dry or bore for oil in the desert of Sahara, as even attempt the futile effort to please all. Perhaps certain classes can come nearer the solution of the problem than others; but it has certainly never fallen to the lot of an editor to happily discover the Philosopher's stone that would transmute his thoughts into such golden fancies as to at once meet the approval and appreciation of all his fellows.

Every day's experience shows how hard it is to please the readers of a newspaper. Fault finders are ever on the watch to pick flaws in your style of selections or the general get up of the paper. An article which distantly hints at an event, may trouble somebody's corns; or a local correcting some public abuse, will arouse the ire of those who may fancy the paragraph refers to them. Within the last two weeks we have had two cases which illustrates closely the difficulty under which an editor labors to avoid unjust criticism or wholesale denunciation.

We copied a paragraph from a paper published in a distant State, without any intention of giving offence. or wounding the feelings of any one; yet strange to say, it aroused the ire of one individual, who straightway ordered his paper stopped. Of course, we stopped ths paper, and went right along as though we had not been deprived of the enormous sum of two dollars.

A professional man sends a card which he desires to have inserted. In it goes; and hardly has the paper gone forth, when we receive a "short, sharp and decisive missive, condemning the publication, while nearly every paper ih the land contains an advertisement far worse in its tone than this. But there must be growlers and tender-toned readers, whose perceptions of good and evil are so high-toned that a single word will upset their refined sense of taste in such matters, and cause them to cry out with holy horror at the contaminating influence of such publications.

But we are glad that this class are few in numbers and the great mass of readers, as a rule, extend some charity to the editor who has to cater to so many tastes, and labor to meet the views of his patrons. Our effort is to do the best we can, and if we fail, or start a growl, it is not our wish it should be so.—East Brady Independent.

THE INEVITABLE.—"The death of an old man's wife," says Lamartiue, "is like cutting down an ancient oak that has long shaded the family mansion. Henceforth the glare of the world, with its cares and vicissitudes, falls upon the old widower's heart, and there is nothing to break their force, or shield it from the full weight of misfortune. It is as if his right hand was withered—as if one wing of his eagle was broken, and every movement that he made brought him ot the ground. His eyes are dim and glassy, and when the film of death falls over him he misses those accustomed tones which might have soothed his passage to the grave.

ECONOMY.—Can we not—since, while the power of the world is with men, the influence lies with women—can we not bring up our girls more usefully and less showily—less dependent on luxury and wealth? Can we not teach them from babyhood that to labor is a higher thing than merely to enjoy; that even enjoyment itself is never so sweet as when it has been earned?—Can we not put in their minds, whatever may be their station, principles of truth, simplicity of taste, helpfulness hatred of waste; and these being firmly rooted, trust to their blossoming up in whatever destiny the maiden may be called to.

DECREASE OF DISTILLERIES.—Internal revenue statistics show that four hundred and two grain and eight molasses distilleries were in operation on February 1, 1870, producing 273,701 gallons of spirits daily. The statistics on February 1, 1871, show that two hundred and eighty grain and six molasses distilleries were in operation, producing 246,146 gallons of spirits daily. Forty-nine distilleries resumed operation during the month of January

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

HOME NEWS.

A LARGE assortment of Wall Paper just received at Zeller & Jarrett's Drug Store, Bishop Street.

ALL the Daily, Weekly and Monthly papers and Magazines, received as soon as published and kept constantly on hand at the Post Office News Room,

CATTERPILLARS.—Now is the time for farmers and others having fruit trees to examine them well, and clear them of the young catterpillars while the nests are small.

CHANGE.—The Bellefonte Meat Market has been purchased by Amos Mullen & Co. B. V. Black who has so long caterd to our appetites retires. We have only space to notice the change.

BIRDS.—There is a law against shooting partridges, robbins and all insectiverous birds. The fine is heavy. Our young sportsmen and others ignorant of the law, would do well to make a note of this. Spare the birds.

FINE FUN.—Some of our neighbors who have been indulging in bitter personalities, are beginning to realize the force of the saying that, "Slander is like a tin kettle tied to a dog's tail—fine fun so long as it isn't our dog."

FEVER.—A severe attack of spring fever has broken out in this vicinity. Its prevailing symptoms are characterized by an uncomfortable desire to sit on the sunny side of some place, and let all kinds of work do itself.

NOT AFRAID.—It is said that some of the bank tellers and cashiers of the country are troubled with the itch, caught from handling greenbacks. We advise our delinquent friends not to hold on to their greenbacks too long, but pass them in to us and take a receipt therefor. The itch has no terror for us, and we are perfectly willing to assume all risks.

CROPS.—We learn that the crops in Curtin township, and indeed throughout the entire county are looking very fine. The prospects for a fruit crop, such as apples, pears &c., are very good, but peaches, cherries, plums &c., we fear have been injured by the early frosts. The warm days in early spring caused them to put on their floral robes a little too soon.

DEPARTED.—Jonas P. Dinges, an old resident of this county, but for the last ten years a resident of Williamsport, Pa., departed this life at that place on the 2nd inst. He was a good man, and his numerous relatives and friends will hear of his death with regret. He was buried in the family burying ground on the old homestead about two miles from Hublersburg, on Monday last. Aged about 50 years.

STERNBERG AHEAD.—A Sternberg, one of the thorough going merchants of this place, is constantly receiving large invoices of goods of all varieties and of the best quality. Mr. Sternberg is numbered among our oldest and most reliable merchants. He says he never has been undersold, and he does not intend to be in this market. It would be well for our people to make a note of this assertion, for Sternberg declares he means it in the best of earnest, and will make his word good on all occasions. He is a clever man. See advertisement.

LADIES STORE.—Miss G. B. Priest, (late of Besson & Son, Chestnut street, Philadelphia,) has removed to this place and opened a first class store, for ladies, in the Bush House. She is well qualified, is accommodating, obliging and amiable. Her stock of goods is large and the very best ever brought to this market. The ladies should all call and examine her goods. She has also a large supply of Ladies' and Gent's ties, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Hosiery, handkerchiefs, &c. She is also Agent for he American Tea Co., and proposes to sell tea and coffee, much below the ordinary prices. We wish her success. See advertisement in another column.

BURGLARY.—It is generally conceded that men who give themselves over to the devil and turn thieves, burglars &c., become very smart in their business, and very expert in ascertaining where money is kept or where the best goods can be found. Upon this hypothesis we can explain why they made a raid upon the store of Burnside & Thomas, on last Sunday night, or Monday morning. Some wicked person or persons wanting cheap goods and not wishing to pay for them, bored a hole, large enough for a mans hand in the store door, reached in raised the bolt and thus made their entrance to the Store easy. Messr. Burnside & Thomas miss a gold watch, a pistol and two or three dollars in pennies and small change. Two of the money drawers were not touched. We suppose the burglars became frightened before they consumated their purposes. We hope Burnside & Thomas will offer a reward for their apprehension and conviction as such characters are dangerous in a community.

THE GAPING BRIGADE.—We call the attention of the gentlemen (?) of this place who block up the passage every Sabbath evening, from the door of the M. E. Church to the front gate, to the following notice of the "Gaping Brigade," which we clip from the Raftmans Journal. The editor says, "we learn that the 'Gaping Brigade' is fully organized for the summer campaign, and is performing regular duty every Sabbath evening. On Sunday evening last, its members filed right and left, and formed an open line from the foot of the stairs in the M. E. church, out through the hall to the front gate, and for a considerable distance along the side walk. It was a magnificent sight, to behold this self sacrificing and accommodating Brigade on drill. And then, too, it is so exceedingly pleasant, especially for ladies, to elbow their way through this crowd of gentlemen (?), who frequently leave scarcely room enough for a single person to pass between their accurately formed lines. This Brigade is the pride of our town, and some of the citizens think of presenting it with a leather meddle for its well-behaved and orderly bearing, instead of resorting to the harsh measures recently adopted by our Altoona neighbors, i. e., of fining each member a 'V.' We tender our citizens the heart-felt thanks of the members of the 'Gaping Brigade,' for their kind intentions and forbearing consideration."

WALL Paper, all prices, styles and quality at Zeller & Jarrett's.

THE EAGLE HOTEL.—In another column of the REPUBLICAN will be seen the card of the Eagle Hotel, Philadelphia—R. D. Cummings Proprietor. This house has recently undergone a thorough internal renovation, and the outside has been painted in imitation of marble, and now the entire house, both internally and externally, presents a very attractive appearance. Here in Centre county, where R. D. Cummings possesses a character as a Hotel keeper and caterer to the tasts of the most fastideous, surpassed by no other man who ever kept a hotel in the county, fulsome praise from us would not only be a work of supererogation, but an insult to our readers. We simply wish to inform our readers that Mr. Cummings is proprietor of the Eagle Hotel. He has determined that his table shall be inferior to none in the city, and his beds and other accomodations unequalled, and all this for the moderate sum of $2,25 per day. Our people visiting Philadelphia will know where to stop.

G. T. T. M. B. S.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of A. S. Tipton, Esq., of Curtin township caught fire in the ceiling near the roof on Tuesday May 2d about 12 o'clock M., from the stove pipe. The whole upper part of the building was in flames before it was discovered. Nearly all the furniture on the first floor was saved; but all upstairs or in the second story including seven beds and bedding were consumed with the building, Mr. Tipton's loss we understand is very heavy. He had no insurance. Mr. Tipton was at Northumberland at the time, and returned home the next day to find his dwelling nothing but a heap of ruins. Mr. Tipton has our warmest sympathies and if it were not for the fact that it is pretty certain the fire originated from the stove pipe, we would almost be inclined to the belief that some of the vindictive Ku Klux of the Watchman had applied the torch.

LARGEST assortment of Wall Paper in town, at Zeller & Jarrett's.

HOW TO BUILD UP A TOWN.—The Mercer Dispatch gives the following excellent recipe for building up a town. We commend it to our merchants and business men. "The best way to build up a town, is for every business man in the place to advertise his business in the columns of the local paper, and thus present an array of business houses equal to the number of houses on the street. It draws trade to the town, draws emigrants to the town, draws produce to the town, draws money to the town. If a man wants to buy anything, he goes where he sees the most men trying to sell that article. If he wants to sell anything, he goes where the most men are buying. If a man wants to buy groceries or sell produce, he goes to the business man that advertises, for he knows where to find him, and what he has to sell.

G. T. T. M. B. S.

THE EFFICACY OF ONIONS.—A writer says: We are troubled often with severe coughs, the result of colds of long standing, which may turn to consumption or premature death. Hard coughs cause sleepless nights by constant irritation in the throat, and strong efforts to throw off offensive matter from the lungs. The remedy I propose has been tried by me, and recommended by me with good results, which is simply to take into the stomach, before retiring for the night, a piece of raw onion, after chewing. This esculent in an uncooked state is very heating, and collecting water from the lungs and throat, causes immediate relief to the patient.

SOMETHING NEW.—Adam Forepaugh's magnificent Zoological and Equestrian Aggregation, exhibits at Bellefonte, on Saturday, May 13th.

The Circus is not a rarity now-a-days and circus proprietors aware of this fact, seek to enhance the attractiveness of their concerns, by carrying with them a few cages of animals and thus attempt to secure the patronage of that large class in the community, who are not interested in circus exhibitions.

ADAM FOREPAUGH,

the king of Menagerie men in this country, has we think, adopted a plan which cannot fail to commend itself to the entire community, and which is ahead of anything we have yet noticed in the show world, although it subjects him to just double the expense of any and every menagerie and circus company now traveling.

TWO SHOWS FOR ONE PRICE.

In the first place he has organized the largest Menagerie in the world. This is exhibited under a mammoth pavilion holding 5,000 people, and is completely seperated from the circus.

IN ANOTHER TENT,

removed from the Menagerie, a first class circus exhibition is given, and one ticket for 50 cents, children 25, (just what is charged for admittance to any ordinary one tent concern) admits to one or both exhibitions, as the ticket holder may elect.

THE ENTIRE PRESS

east of here, are unanimous in pronouncing Forepaugh's establishment the most stupendous exhibition of the kind ever seen in this State, and in every respect worthy the patronage of the entire community. And guided by their unqualified endorsements, we bespeak a most liberal patronage from town and country, when it arrives here.

WHAT WE ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR.—The above heading refers to what the Nellie Love Troupe that performs at Reynolds' Hall, on Thursday evening, May 11th; announces to us, they mean the buttons that are bursted off the garments of their audience caused by roars of laughter during their very chaste and moral entertainment. The best guarantee we have that this troupe always give satisfaction is, that three weeks ago they performed for three nights in the Opera House at Lock Haven, and created such a furore that by universal request of the citizens, they paid their second visit to that place in the brief space of three weeks, opening there last Saturday eve., for four nights, and their agent informs us that they opened, although it rained very heavy, to $117,75, and the majority of their audience being ladies. Miss Nellie Love is spoken of in the highest terms as a lady and actress by all of our exchanges. See advertisement for particulars. Mr. E. M. Gotthold their agent, is known throughout the U. S., as a literary man writing under the very novel but we must say, appropriate nom de plume of Kurious Kuss.

SUNDAY School men look to your interests, and buy everything you need at Rankins Model Book Store.

OIL, OIL!—We did not hear that our enterprising friend J. Brant Hahn, of Milesburg had bored for, and found oil; but we did hear, and do know, that he has engaged largely in the sale of Kerosene, Illuminating and Lubricating oils. He proposes to sell cheaper than they can be purchased for, from any other man, or establishment in Central Pennsylvania. He is also Agent for T. Conrow & Co., wholesale dealers in Groceries, Canned Fruits, Teas, Spices, Tobacco, &c., &c., Nos. 419 and 421 North Third street, Philadelphia These parties, if their groceries, fruits, &c., are as good, as their agent Mr. Hahn, is honest and energetic, cannot fail to succeed, and have an extensive sale for their goods in middle Penna. We direct the attention of our readers to Mr. Hahn and the house with which he is connected.

MARKET CAR.—Messrs. Linn & Fortney, two very clever men have engafied in the vegetable and Green-grocer business for the benefit of the people of this place and vicinity. They have their own market car and will run it the entire season. They will in this way receive their vegetables fresh and good, and supply a want that has been for years severely felt here. They deserve to be encouraged and we trust they will be. There sales-room is just opposite the Bush House, where they have at all times sweet potatoes, onions, radishes, lettuce, turnips, rhubarb, apples, lemons, oranges, pine-apples, bananas, fresh fish, green peas, beans and a variety of other good things. Be sure to call and see them. See advertisement in another column.

SIX YEARS AGO.—In the year 1865, if you will take the trouble to examine, you find that the dates of the months and days of the week correspond exactly with those of the present year. Those who have diaries of 1865 will find they are of use this year, and the diaries of 1871 will be of service in the same way in 1876. For instance, the 20th of March came on Monday in '65 as well as '71, and will be on the same day in '76. Such is one of the laws of the universe, which time alone makes and governs.

BELLEFONTE PLANING MILL.—This superior establishment under the management of Wm. V. Hughes, Esq., is doing a flourishing business and is a great convenience to farmers and builders, as well as a great advantage to our town. Mr. Hughes is a high minded honorable man, and strives to deal fairly with all. He is a practical mechanic and experienced contractor, having built the new Presbyterian church and St. Johns Episcopal church in this place. Also the new church at Lemont. In the mean time he built an M. E. Church in Lock Haven, and is now building a Presbyterian church in Huntingdon.

The foreman of the Planing Mill, is Mr. George T. Brew, and we are assured that it is in able hands. An accident occurred there however on Thursday last, which might have proved very serious. The surfacer of the mill was broken, and the pieces of knives and bolts flew all over and through the mill making the men dodge and run, and generally more active than they had ever been before. We rejoice to chronicle the fact that no person was hurt. We do not know that any one is particularly to blame for the accident but inch boards was a little too large for the capacity of the surfacer.

FOR Good Fishing Tackle go to Green's.

PATENT BITS &c.—No farmer or horseman should be without one of A. H. Rockwells patent bits, considered by all the principle farmers and horsemen as the bit of all bits, for breaking colts, runaways, side reiners, hard pullers and kickers. These bits are for sale by J. H. McClure & Son, manufacturers of, and dealers in double and single harness, ladies and gentlemens riding saddles, bridles, collars, whips &c. Also hames, heavy harness, plow harness, wagon whips &c., &c. Indeed; everything in the saddlery line, is kept constantly on hand, by them, at the most reasonable prices. All orders promptly attended to, and repairing done on short notice. Materials and workmanship warranted in every particular

THE choicest brands of Segars, Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, just received at the Post Office Book Store and news room.

LIQUOR ON ELECTION DAYS.—The following bill, having passed both houses and received the Governor's approval, has become a law:

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any person in this Commonwealth, whether licensed to sell liquors, or unlicensed, to buy, sell or give away to be used as a drink, any spiritous or malt liquors, wine or cider or any other substance containing alcohol, on any part of any day set apart or to be set apart for any general or special election by the citizens in or within any of the precincts, wards, townships, counties or other election divisions or districts in the Commonwealth.

SEC. 2. Any person violating the provisions of the first section of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subjected to imprisonment in the proper jail of the county for a term not less than 10 days, nor more than 100 days in the discretion of the court, and shall also in addition to the above, be subject to a fine of not less than $20 and not more than $500 in the discretion of the court.

Mr. Schnatterly moved to amend the first section as follows: That the provisions of this bill shall not be enforced after the election polls are closed in the evening, or sale of liquor prohibited after that time. Agreed to.

MILLINERY.—We direct the attention of our lady readers to the advertisement of Mrs. Dare in another column of the REPUBLICAN. Mrs. Dare as will be seen has a large supply of the very best of millinery goods of all kinds, at very reasonable prices. She is perfect master of her business, and is determined to please, if possible, all who favor her with a call. Do not forget the place. Room just opposite the Bush House.

A MISTAKE.—That editors are delighted to get anything to "fill up" the paper.

That they have plenty of time to correct bad manuscript.

That they should "puff" everybody for nothing.

That they must have no opinion of their own.

That they should know everything whether informed or not.

That they have plenty of money.

That they should notice every scalawag show that travels.

That they should have news, whether there is any or not.

That they should print every man's name who attends a dog fight or a horse race.

That they have time to talk an hour with every one of the hundreds who come into the office every day.

G. T. T. M. B. S.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—We clip the following good suggestion from that spicy and excellent paper the Mifflinburg Telegraph. In speaking of our Railroad, the editor says: "The Tyrone Herald states that the Railroad has been located to that place and that Contractors are now in order. We infer that Tyrone has been decided upon as the western terminus of the Lewisburg Centre and Spruce Creek Railroad. A change of name is next in order. We suggest "Danville, Buffalo Valley and Tyrone." This would suggest the connections and the road would doubtless be familiarly known as the Buffalo Valley Railroad—after a valley not excelled in Pennsylvania for beauty and successful agriculture—all of which would be eminently proper."

FRENCH and plain. initial and note paper, in endless variety for sale by James Welch, at the Post Office Book Store and news room.

THICK.—Candidates in the Democratic party for the office of Associate Judge, are becoming very numerous. It is amusing to see how kindly they act while in each others presence; but as soon as the back of one is turned, then begins the tug of war. The prospect for a fight in the ranks of the happy family are growing very bright. We say be moderate gentlemen. "Let dogs delight to bark and bite" &c.

THE FINEST GRAPE IN AMERICA.—Mr. Alfred Speer, the maker of the celebrated Port Grape Wine, says, it is about the size of the Isabella, and that it is the finest on the continent. He has refused thousands of applications for the plant, as he requires all available cuttings for the extension of his vineyards. He has orders for his wine from Europe,. Our druggists have procured some four years old.

CHEAP.—Edward Brown at his Grocery Store on the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets, is selling sugar, coffee, syrup, &c., cheaper than they can be purchased elsewhere. Sacks of fine table salt he sells for 20 cents. Sugars he sells from one to two cents below the price in other stores. Corn brooms ten cents cheaper than any other establishment in town. Call and see him.
